GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION PROPOSES TOURS OF COUNTY

Two And Probably Three Trips To Cover The Territory

FAVOR FULL STATE PROGRAM

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Washington County Good Roads Association held in Washington, Thursday afternoon, it was suggested that tours of the county to demonstrate to the people of the county what the new road system will be like be made by members of the association. The suggestion met with favor and a committee was appointed to plan proposed itineraries.

Two tours, one in the east and the other in the west of the county perhaps three tours, will be undertaken beginning the week of July 7. These who participate will learn what the system of proposed roads is, and also will have the opportunity to compare state and county work already done.

The executive committee also took action toward asking the county commissioners to publish detailed specifications of all contracts for the roads on the new system as well as the names and capabilities of the inspectors, for the purpose of making known just what will go into the road making and what is the character of the men who will have it in charge.

The committee went on record as favoring the execution of the system of highways proposed to the voters at the time of the election, in its entirety, recommending closest co-operation of county with state road officials, and pledging the association to keep in touch with the development of plans in this county, to see that there is no delay.

MANY ROADS ARE NOW BEING OILED

The State Highway Department announced on Thursday that of five millions of gallons of oil which the department proposes to apply to Pennsylvania highways during the 1919 season, over a third has already been applied and 60 per cent is on the way to points of application. The department is far ahead of records of previous years and believes that by August 15 the oiling operations will have been completed. Thirty trucks are at work in various sections of Pennsylvania. The quantity of oil being applied in 1919 equals that applied in both 1916 and 1917.

Among the stretches which are undergoing the process of oiling is one from a point in the vicinity of Farmington to Uniontown in Fayette county, and from a point near Scenery Hill to a point near South Strabane in Washington county.

CARNEGIE OFFICIALS ON INSPECTION TRIP

The tug Clairton, of the Carnegie Steel company line, with a decked and covered barge in tow, passed down the river Thursday forenoon, bound from Ronco to Clairton having on board officials of the fuel department of the Carnegie interests on board. The party was on a tour of inspection, and visited the big by-product plant at Clairton.

FIRST BARGE OF BIG FREIGHT LINE

A large number of government officials, as well as those of the American Bridge Company, witnessed the launching of the first steel barge which is to form a part of the railroad, administration to utilize the great natural waterways of the country for the transportation of freights.

The launching took place in the big barge yard of the bridge company at Ambridge, on the Ohio river, and was successful from every point of view. The plans for the barge were prepared by government naval architects and is the first of a fleet of forty which the government is having constructed, all of which will be used on the Mississippi river between St. Louis and New Orleans. The bridge company has a contract for 25 of these crafts while the Dravo Contracting company will build fifteen. The government has awarded contracts for the construction of six large-type steamboats which will be built at once, and likewise has purchased a number of steamers which are now available for service. As fast as the barges are delivered they will be placed in service and by fall it is expected to have the line in operation. The line is expected to relieve the railroads of the congestion which has heretofore delayed shipments of heavy and bulky freight.

Chief Albright and Officer Murphy left at noon today for the Presbyterian hospital, Pittsburgh, and will return this evening with James J. Hott, who has been a patient at that institution for several weeks. Mr. Hott's condition has not materially improved since he entered the hospital.

Corporal Joseph L. Gass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gass, arrived home yesterday after having been discharged at Camp Dix on the 25th of June.

After reading what the fight experts have to say about the big "mill" scheduled for Toledo on the Fourth of July, it is hard to determine which will be the winner.

Hotel Bars Will Close At 9:30 P. M. Monday

Unless President Wilson removes the wartime prohibition restrictions, all of the hotel bars in Charleroi will close promptly at 9:30 o'clock Monday night, to remain closed until such time as the restrictions are removed.

This was the statement made by W. R. Gaut, of the Hotel Walfred, this morning in answer to a question as to what the hotel would do after the first of July. Mr. Gaut said his bar would close at the time mentioned and remain closed until the restrictions are removed, although it was intimated that some of the other bars might remain open for the sale of near beer, soft drinks and cigars.

It was further stated that the hotels would remain open as usual for the accommodation of the traveling public. As the hotel men have their license paid up until the first day of next May they will reopen their bars once the restrictions are taken off, and keep them open until constitutional prohibition takes effect, which will be on the 16th of next January. After that date it is a question if all of the local hotels will remain in business. Mr. Gaut says he will abandon the business and likely turn the hotel building into apartments, for which it was originally erected. This change could be made with but little expense and the building could be made ready for the accommodation of at least three families within a few weeks. Of course some of the hotels will remain in business, but which of them will so elect remains to be seen. However it is admitted that there would be plenty of business for two or three, and no doubt this number will continue to accommodate the public.

All clubs are likewise affected by the wartime prohibition and after Monday night will not be allowed to dispose of any alcoholic stimulants. Of course this feature will not materially affect some of them, but there are others which may close their doors.

A New Motor Code Is Passed By Legislature

The state legislature, which adjourned on Thursday, passed a number of measures relating to motor vehicles. The most important of these measures is the Dithrich bill, which deals with the registration fee. It is estimated that this bill will increase the revenues of the state from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 a year. The receipts of the department in 1918 were $4,000,000.

The Dithrich bill replaces the act of 1913. It places the registration fee for pleasure vehicles at 40 cents per horsepower, an increase of approximately 2 per cent. All trucks under 2,000 pounds are registered by the horse power, and above that are licensed by the weight of the chassis. Trucks are divided into seven classes, according to weight, with fees running from $20 to $15. The present fee is from $5 to $25. A limit of 26,000 pounds is placed on the gross load of trucks. The width is limited to 9 inches and the length to 2 feet. A speed limit is placed on each class of trucks.

Another provision of the bill regulates the use of lights and prohibits muffler cutout. The speed limit in the open country is increased from 24 to 30 miles an hour and municipalities are allowed to place a limit of 15 miles an hour within their corporate limits. The bill is in the hands of the Governor. Numerous efforts were made during the progress of the measure to inject amendments which would have weakened it, but Governor Sproul barred the way and stood back of the efforts of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation to put this legislation through. This is generally accepted as the most comprehensive motor code in the United States.

CHARLEROI GIRL MARRIED IN PITTSBURG THURSDAY

The wedding of Miss Anna E. Hendershot of Charleroi and John H. Hartman of Turtle Creek took place at the home of Rev. F. A. Richards in Pittsburgh Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. The ring ceremony was used. The only attendant was Miss Leila Orange of Charleroi. This bride has been a teacher in the Fallowfield township schools for several years and made her home with her brother Ward Hendershot of Fallowfield avenue. Following the ceremony the couple left on a trip to the Great Lakes. They will make their home in Turtle Creek.

AUTO THIEVES ARE REAPING A HARVEST

Monessen seems to be infected at the present time with a gang of automobile thieves, two machines being stolen this week. On Monday night Chauncey Duval lost a Ford roadster. Mr. Murphy left his car while he entered a house for a few minutes and when he returned it was gone.

During the past month quite a number of cars have been stolen in that town, one of which was found wrecked on the Priedale road, while another was returned to the garage. Most of the machines taken however are never found, the thieves evidently making such changes in appearance as well as in license tags as to make it impossible without a very close examination to identify the machine.

Hardly a day passes that reports of lost cars do not reach police headquarters of cars that have been stolen. The auto thieves appear to have such a system by means of which they are able to get away with a car and once it is in their possession, that it is with difficulty it is found.

Chautauqua Management Invites All Soldiers To Hear Noted Speaker

LECTURE TO BEGIN AT 9:15 P. M.

The storm of last evening prevented many music lovers of Charleroi from attending the concert given by the Smith-Spring-Holmes Quintette at the chautauqua tent. The storm came at a time just when people were ready to attend the affair, but owing to the unfavorable weather they remained at home. However, many of the ticket holders braved the elements and were well repaid for their efforts. The quintette is one of the finest musical organizations in chautauqua circles.

Superintendent Batten this morning announced that in order to accommodate the business men of the community the program for Saturday evening would open somewhat later than the scheduled hour. The musical part of the program will begin at 8:15, at which time Daddy Grob-ecker's Yodlers will render a very pleasing program. At 9:15 General Mesrop Newton Azgapietian, who was a Division Commander in the Russian army, with 100,000 Armenian soldiers, will deliver his address on "The Bolsheviks and its Relation to American Problems."

Gen. Azgapietian was born in Constantinople 55 years ago, is a graduate of Robert College, the University of Geneva, Switzerland, and of Columbus University, New York City. He is an American citizen and not only speaks English fluently but likewise six other languages.

Superintendent Batten also announced that all returned soldiers, sailors and marines, as well as veterans of the civil war who wear the bronze button, will be admitted to this lecture free. Gen. Azgapietian has a great message and one that should be heard by the men who fought in the great world war.

This evening the Kriedler concert company will give the program, an offering which the Lincoln Chautauqua looks upon as one of the best features on their program.

The impulse to write poetry is one that at one time or another convulses every one of us, but our notion is that quite a number ought to control and smother it, and very few ought to attempt it without first consulting friends and the family physician.

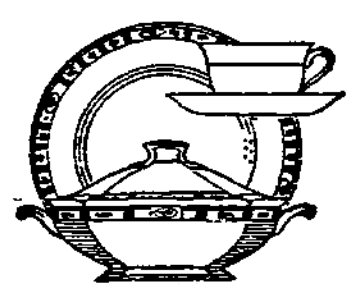

London is reported as being crazy on "jazz" weddings, and soon may be expected to specialize on ragtime divorces.

Dr. J. K. Smith went to Pittsburgh at noon today to accompany J. J. Hott home from the Presbyterian hospital this evening.

A generation ago people were laughing heartily at Darius Green and his flying machine. But one day this summer a daring American jumped the Atlantic ocean. Jokes, like d reams, sometimes come true. The jest of yesterday is the need of the astonishing relief. Even the mother-in-law, the noiseless soup spoon, the flat pea and the milk man's pump will become necessities in time.

One of the troubles of the world is that it has too many imperative needs that conflict one with another.

BIG WHEAT CROP IN WESTMORELAND

It is said that Westmoreland county farmers this year will harvest and thresh the largest crop of wheat in years. While the acreage is a little larger the increase in bushels will be due to the fact that hundreds of farmers this year substituted spring wheat for the winter variety. The average yield of wheat in Westmoreland county last year was 11 bushels per acre; that of the spring planting was 26 bushels. This difference of 15 bushels at $2.50 per bushel was the motive for changing from the fall to the spring variety.
